Speedify 9.5.0 is Easy to use VPN software. Speedify lets you do unlimited number of simultaneous VPN connections to different locations. It is possible to use only one PC. No matter the client is on LAN or internet, Speedify does its job. And it does it very well. The program lets you easily setup multiple connections. You can create new networks for your friends or colleagues. On the other hand, one single connection is enough for doing business. A friend can be on one, while you are at another location. You can even connect to multiple VPN servers and devices simultaneously. And you can configure them so that once you are connected to one location, all the others are disconnected. Setting up a new VPN network is easy. The location server you want to connect to can be on LAN or the Internet. You can even specify a fixed IP address for the VPN connection. All you have to do is to enter a passphrase to set up a secure VPN tunnel to the server. The program stores your settings so that you don't need to do this again and again. It can also be configured to auto-connect to the VPN server you have specified. You do not need to do anything but wait for a connection to be established. Speedify has got a built-in router that can let you share its bandwidth and connect to other networks using the same one. Speedify can save all your access logs to a local CSV file. Sharing the connection through the router is very simple. All you need to do is open the chosen network adapter properties. And enable the share your Internet connection checkbox. Now, you can share the connection via LAN. The connection is shared as a modem connection. And can be easily bridged to access the internet through this adapter. Speedify lets you monitor your bandwidth and provide usage reports. Easy to set up. It is easy to setup using the wizard. And the interface allows you to configure the connections in simple and easy steps. It is compatible with various operating systems. The program is compatible with Windows, Android, and Mac OS. It has got a very rich and feature-filled manual. You can also take help from Speedify VPN's online help forum. The program can be used to connect to any type of VPN server. And there are many servers available. Out of these, only a few are free. But most servers are free for at least a month. This means that you need not pay anything. And can try the servers before using them for real. Speedify supports 128-bit and 256-bit encryption algorithms.
